

Charlestown woman launches children's entertainment business

CHARLESTOWN woman Geraldine McDonnell has just started her own business, a children's entertainment company called Kids Party Club, serving all of Mayo and parts of Sligo.

Kids Party Club is a national children's entertainment and education business, providing professional party entertainment for children, in the safety of their own homes or a chosen venue.

Key occasions include birthdays, communions, weddings, family celebrations and corporate events as well as seasonal events such as Easter, Halloween, Christmas, talks/workshops and library events as well as local community festivals.

In addition, the Kids Party Club - Educational, provides educational puppet shows in national schools and libraries around the country on the SPIE curriculum topics including anti-bullying, healthy eating and reading and communicated in an accurate and sensitive, but entertaining manner.

Geraldine is a mother of four girls including five-year-old twins so she knows all about entertaining children!

"I am thrilled to be starting up my own business, taking on a real challenge outside of the home. The recession creates opportunities and families more than ever need outlets of light-hearted entertainment," she said.

"As part of the franchise package I received an exclusive franchise territory and full complement of equipment, show and promotional materials, puppets, sound and lighting systems, everything I need to get started.

"I also receive ongoing training to help me operate the franchise effectively. I am really looking forward to building the business, travelling all over Mayo and Sligo and bringing some puppet magic to children, parents and teachers alike!" added Geraldine.

A Kids Party Club party comprises of a pre-recorded, utterly unique, creative and funny puppet show followed by a kids disco with DJ Funky and friends, and a little magic show.

The puppet shows work a bit like a pantomime - nice and simple for the kids to understand but with a little sub-text to amuse any adults who may be watching. Because the shows are pre-recorded they also have a layer of sound effects, which really adds to the enjoyment.

The sound and lighting systems are top of the range too which further adds to the professional show. For further information or to book a party visit www.kidspartyclub.ie or Lo-Call 1890 252 382.
